Section II : Textual passages

Q.2 (A) Read the passage and complete the activities 10 Marks

A1. State whether the following statements are true or false. 2

(i) Satyarthi feels that peace can be taught by beginning with adults.

(ii) Satyarthi wishes to unite the world through compassion for children.

(iii) The eight year old girl labourer who worked in the stone quarry was angry.

(iv) Children are questioning our actions.

Mahatma Gandhi said, "If we are to teach real peace in this world... we shall have to begin with the children." I humbly add, let us unite the world through the compassion for our children. I ask - Whose children are they who stitch footballs, yet never played with one? Whose children are they who harvest cocoa, yet have never tasted chocolate? Whose children are they who are dying of Ebola? Whose children are they who are kidnapped and held hostage? They are all our children. I remember an eight-year-old girl we rescued from intergenerational forced labour from stone quarries. When she was sitting in my car right after her rescue, she asked me: "Why did you not come earlier?" Her angry question still shakes me – and has the power to shake the whole world. Her question is for all of us. What are we doing? What are we waiting for? How many girls will we allow to go without rescue? Children are questioning our inaction and watching our actions. We need collective actions with a sense of urgency. Every single minute matters, every single child matters, every single childhood matters. Therefore, I challenge the passivity and pessimism surrounding our children. I challenge this culture of silence and this culture of passivity, this culture of neutrality.

A2. Why do we urgently need collective actions? 2

Smita bit her lip in self-reproach. She had been so excited at seeing the announcement, that she had not remembered that her brother was very ill. She had seen how the doctors had shaken their heads gravely and spoken words that neither she nor even her parents could understand. But somewhere deep inside Smita had known the frightening truth – that Anant was going to die. The word cancer had hung in the air – her brother was dying of cancer even though she pretended that all would be well and they would return together, a small family of four, to their home in Gaganpur. And he was only fifteen and the best table-tennis player in the school and the fastest runner. He was learning to play the sitar ; they were both taking sitar lessons, but Anant was better than her as in many other things. He was already able to compose his own tunes to the astonishment of their guru. Then cancer had struck and they had come to Bombay so that he could be treated at the cancer hospital in the city.

Whenever they came to Bombay they stayed with Aunt Sushila. Her apartment was not big but there was always room for them. They had come with high hopes in the miracles of modern science. They told themselves that Anant would be cured at the hospital and he would again walk and run and even take part in the forthcoming table-tennis tournament. And, he would play the sitar perhaps be a great sitarist one day. But his condition grew worse with each passing day and the doctors at the cancer hospital said, 'Take him home. Give him the thing he likes, indulge him,' and they knew then that the boy had not many days to live.

2. Why did Smita become nervous? 2

3. Fill in the columns: 2

	Noun	Adjective	Adverb
i)	Truth	truthful	_____
ii)	Play	_____	_____
iii)	Condition	conditional	_____

ii) He would play the sitar. (Pick out the modal auxiliary)

B5. How has modern science influenced your perspective? 2

(Section III : Poetry)

Q.3 (A) Read the following extract and do the activities: Marks 5

A1 Complete the following: 2

(i) A thing of beauty provides quiet _____.

(ii) A thing of beauty brings one a sleep _____.

A thing of beauty is a joy for ever :
Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health and quiet breathing.
Therefore, on every morrow, are we wreathing
A flowery band to bind us to the earth,
Spite of despondence, of the inhuman dearth
Of noble natures, of the gloomy days,
Of all the unhealthy and o'er-darkened ways
Made for our searching : yes, in spite of all,
Some shape of beauty moves away the pall
From our dark spirits. Such the sun, the moon,
Trees old, and young, sprouting a shady boon
For simple sheep ; and such are daffodils

A2. Pick out an example of antithesis from the given extract 1

A3. Explain the line 'It will never pass into nothingness.' 2

Q.3.B) Write a critical appreciation of the poem. Marks 5

With the help of the given points in a paragraph format.

(Poem , Poet , Rhyme scheme , Figure of speech , Central Idea)

If you want a thing bad enough
to go out and fight for it,
work day and night for it,
give up your time and your peace and your sleep for it

https://www.maharashtrastudy.com

If all that you dream
and scheme is about it and life seems useless and worthless without it
If you gladly sweat for, fret for and plan for it and lose all your terror of the opposition for it.
If you simply go after that thing that you want with all of your capacity, strength and sagacity, faith, hope and confidence and stern pertinacity.
If neither cold or poverty, famished or gaunt or sickness or pain
of body and brain
can keep you away from the thing that you want,
If dogged and grim you besiege and beset it,
with the help of GOD you'll get it!

Section IV : Non textual Passages and summary writing

Marks 10

Q.4. (A) Non-Textual passage 2

A1) Complete the following:

i) People who indulge in abusing can _____.

ii) The young generation should learn to control _____.

In contemporary era, the young generation has an excessive behaviour towards use of abusive words, fouls and swears in common conversations on daily basis. They tend to forget the negative effects of using foul language. Abusive language reflects the ill intentions as well as the anger of the speaker; it makes the listener enraged. People who indulge themselves in using abusive language can never contribute to the society nor to their own growth. It does not do anything worthwhile for the speaker as well as the listener. It creates anger in the verbally abused person, and a discussion may turn into a fight. The habit of abusing has been built on to you by yourself and the only way to stop this is to train yourself to stop using harsh words. The consequences of abusive language are profound and far reaching. At the individual level, exposure to abusive language can lead to emotional distress, anxiety, and diminished self-esteem. Victims of verbal abuse may experience long-term psychological harm, affecting their relationships and overall
